The Manager Store. Stylish Summer Dresses

THESE are days when the Wanamaker store is a public Exposition of Style Illustration. True, these fine things are all for sale and wil. likely be sold as quickly as shown; but we should not be half paid for our study and zeal if we got no more than the paltry profit from each of these creations. Originality is in all-genius in creating, taste in selecting and combining materials, skill in the artful making.

The show today is to illustrate the conceptions that highest American skill has conjured from lawns, organdies, dimities, and a few of the lighter summer silks.

These styles have never been seen before-from the brain of the designer they come straight to you.

If you want the ready-made garment, it is for sale; if you want to choose your own materials here is more inspiration than you'd catch from a score of fashion journals.

Every possible treatment that fashion gives countenance to is here, in delightful variations to admire and wonder at.

Don't let their beauty make you forget the simplicity of the fabrics-of course many of the stuffs are from abroad; but you can choose from almost five hundred variations of foreign dimities at our counters, well night three hundred plays of Swiss muslins, quite a hundred organdies.

You shall enjoy the first blossoms; catch ideas, or share the dresses, if you wish.

Dress Silk Novelties

Fail to see them and you'll miss things well worth your seeing. There are exquisite white silks from which open work designs have been cut out by hand, and the spaces filled in with Brussels net. When displayed over foundations of delicate plain colored silks the effects are marvellously rich and beautiful.

Another novelty is too intricate for description. They are woven, embroidered, stamped and printed in combinations that produce effective results the like of which you never saw before. Each starts with a plain rich color upon which is a serpentine river in white, the edges of the river are embroidered and the white centre is decorated with exquisite blossomsmuch as though the white space represented water with the flowers floating

Perhaps these hints will lead you to the Rotunda—the best place in the world for the purchase of silks at retail. The abundant light reveals every trait of color and weave.

Shirt Waist Show Continues

You were pleased yesterday-there was no room for doubt. There has never been a more interesting show of Waists. The spirit of the season gives freedom for elaboration never known to shirt waist designers before.

There was broad surprise that such wide variety, such beauty should be ready so soon. Your buying tells that later we should have been tardy, foremost as we were.

This hint for those who have not seen: At $16-Waist of allover lace insertion and
